

“Kevin is a highly motivated and skilled individual, used to thinking outside the box. Easily able to operate at all levels in an organisation and beyond, his background in technology, coupled with his experience at the highest levels of corporate management, make him an excellent choice of leader”

Prof. Russel Griggs OBE
Chairman, pureLiFi

“Kevin has a strong combination of strategic vision, ability to implement change, and to deliver. He has huge energy and drive, and will not stop until the outcome is achieved. Kevin retains the respect of his team, through effective delegation, providing motivation and support as needed”

Owen Kingston
Head of IT Services Turkey, Accenture

“Through his leadership, both NEC and Siemens delivered the first commercial 3G network in Europe, within budget and on time. Stakeholders came from very different cultures (Japanese, German, Chinese, English). Kevin is in my opinion an excellent leader with strengths in both technology and people management”

Svante Stenbom
Managing Director, Siemens UK
